

Violence Against Women and Gendered Disinformation: Intersecting Perspectives from Research, Policy, and Practice from Bulgaria, Italy and Lithuania

FINAL PROJECT CONFERENCE

November 4-5, 2024

Sala Partesotti, Building E, San Giobbe Economics Campus
Fondamenta S. Giobbe, 810, Venice and Online (via ZOOM)

DAY 1

9.45 – 10.00 Registration

10.00 – 10.10 Welcome and presentation of the conference's programme

10.10 – 10.40 Presentation of the results of the RESIST Project by Dr. Gergana Tzvetkova

10.40 – 12.30 FIRST PANEL

From Research to Action: Practices, Policies, and Projects

moderated by: Dr. Gergana Tzvetkova

Gloria Trifonova (Analyst, Center for the Study of Democracy), Shaping Perceptions: Exploring Gender and Identity Disinformation Narratives in Bulgaria

Luba Kassova (Director and Co-founder, AKAS), News media's coverage of women and the endemic violence against them: stereotypes, traps and solutions for positive social change

Maria Palumbo (Project Officer of the menABLE project, European Schoolnet (EUN)), Educational Tools and Youth Engagement to Tackle GBV Online: Insights from the menABLE Project

Kristina Tsabala (Analyst, Center for the Study of Democracy, Driving Change), Analyzing Effects and Countering Gendered Disinformation

12.30 – 13.30 Lunch

13.30 – 14.30 Discussion of the Commentary on the Istanbul Convention

Interview with Prof. Sara De Vido

14.30 – 15.45 SECOND PANEL

Rights at the Crossroads: Research Insights on Gender-Based Violence and Disinformation moderated by: Prof. Sara De Vido

Viktorija Mažeikienė (Associate professor, Mykolas Romeris University), Linguistic analysis of gender-based disinformation in the Lithuanian political discourse

Emilia Slavova (PhD, St. Kliment Ohridski University of Sofia), Toxifying Gender in Bulgaria, A 'special linguistic operation' against women and LGBTQ+ people

Chiara Gius (Junior Assistant Professor, University of Bologna), Technology-facilitated gender-based violence: emerging insights from current research

DAY 2

9.45 – 10.00 Registration

10.00 – 10.05 Presenting the programme for the day

10.05 – 11.35 PANEL

Emerging Scholars: Research in Progress

moderated by: Dr. Sara Dal Monaco

Francesca Rotolo (Research Fellow, Ca' Foscari University of Venice), Gender-Based Discrimination in LLMs: A Systemic Risk for "Society as a Whole" Under the AI Act?

Ioanna Bagia (Doctoral Researcher, University of Luxembourg), Coercive control in the digital age: A threat to the rule of law?

Zuzanna Kowalska (European Master in Human Rights and Democratization student), Conceptualization of technology-facilitated gender-based violence through study on manosphere's cyberspaces – a preliminary analysis and the objectives of the research

Lucia Botti (PhD student, University of Macerata), "Gender Discourses: Why the Femicide of Giulia Cecchettin Continues to Challenge the Boundaries Between Public and Private Violence Against Women" – paper co-authored with Nicolò Maria Ingarra and Alessio Panaggio

Elena Frasca (PhD student, Ca' Foscari University of Venice), The gendered dimension of technology-facilitated human trafficking for sexual exploitation: the limits of the international legal framework in victim protection and crime prevention

11.35 – 11.40 Closing remarks

To register please fill out this form: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSfZ1E1bZSfji_

This event is organized within the framework of the project "Stereotyping, Disinformation, and Politicisation: links between attacks against the Istanbul Convention and increased online gender-based violence" (RESIST). This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under the Marie Skłodowska-Curie grant agreement No. 945361.